

Nado Select Soccer Club
Developmental Program Agreement
2012-2013 Season

Coronado Youth Soccer League recognizes that there may be situations in which a player shows promise as a soccer player and has an interest in trying to achieve a higher skill level by training with Nado Select coaches, but has not yet reached the level of play of the other members of a given team. In other cases, a roster may be full, but the coach is willing to have a player train with the team for the current season with an eye on the future when there may be openings on the team. In such cases, the Director of Coaching may consider allowing a player to train with a team as a Developmental player. The program provides the opportunity for Developmental Players to:

- Train with the Nado Select team at practices, in order to improve his/her skills.
- Play on a recreational team and participate in regular recreational team games and some recreational practices during the season at no additional cost, if the parent desires and if a recreational team is available.
- Receive Nado Select shorts and socks.

Additionally,

- Developmental players may be invited to play with the Nado Select team during tournaments at the coach's discretion. When this occurs, Developmental players will be required to pay their fair share of tournament fees. (See Parent Letter.) They will be loaned game jerseys, which must be returned to the Team Manager following the tournament. If parents have any questions about their child's participation in any tournament, they are encouraged to get clarification directly from the coach.
- In carefully chosen individual cases, a player may be invited to join the Nado Select Team on the Presidio roster (if space allows) for the regular Presidio season as a Developmental player. In this case, the player is not guaranteed playing time in the standard manner outlined in the Parent Letter. Players who move from Developmental status to full members of a competitive team are required to pay increased fees (pro-rated amount to be determined by the Director of Select).

Fees:

In recognition of the reduced level of participation, Nado Select offers a lower fee (1/2 of full fee) for all Developmental players. Registration fees for Developmental Players for the 2012-2013 season are:

payment dates and amounts due. If a payment is missed, player will not be allowed to train with the team until the missed payment is made.
